"Who Else Wants To Learn This Incredibly Powerful Form Of Communication?"

The Opportunity To Live Your Dreams You've Waited For All Your Life That's Within Your Reach, Right Now"

Introducing...

"Apply Hypnosis in Today's Age"

It's only communication...

We're going to cover a lot of separate topics in this densely valuable book, but it all concerns only you and a solution...

Unconscious Communication!

That's all. Communication. And you. Lots of powerful influence. Enjoyably. Easily. I'm going to teach you to do exactly what I'm doing. Persuading others with nary a penny's worth of effort. You're going to unleash incredible new levels of leverage in your professional life - and indeed, in your personal life, too!

If I've done my job right, you'll never be the same after engaging this book. We're talking about YOU getting results in unconscious communication. Today! Real power.

How do you go about learning hypnosis in Today's Age?

Take a look at this:

Hypnosis, in most dictionaries literally means sleep. I think that's such a terrible definition. It's more than that. In fact, it's much more than that. Hypnosis to me is unconscious communication.

You'll find as you read this book that it's actually, very easy to make anyone do what you want, including yourself. If you know how it's done! And if you want more, like sales, it's there, too. Approached mindfully, it's shamefully easy to get others to take action. If your ideas are somewhat lower, like seducing others, that's fine, too. If you find these examples hard to believe right now... stick with me.

I assure you, with the knowledge you'll get from Apply Hypnosis, if you only put 1/100th of it into action, you will get results.

There is no easier way to create POWERFUL influence quickly and safely than with Apply Hypnosis. I've tried everything... But I'm not the only one saying this. Everyone who's done it sings the same tune!

"It is so refreshing after many years of disappointments to finally come across an honest and honorable individual in the hypnosis industry. You not only offer exactly what you say you offer, but you should be selling your materials for ten times what you ask!" Alex Traymore, Columbus, Georgia

And you can do it with anyone or anything that involves socializing, including writing!

And if you think it is easy to enter Persuasion Power... Think about "Apply Hypnosis" in today's Age!

Apply Hypnosis is easier, faster, broader, and unlimited!

We use the same basic principles and approaches of persuasion and influence, tweaked a bit, for super-persuasion.

You see, most people have the wrong impression of hypnosis. Some people think it's "follow my watch from side to side". Others think it's used to make people do silly things in front of audiences. Then some people think it doesn't work at all. You'll be learning all there is to know about hypnosis. And how to use it, too!

Yes, it's true - you can use hypnosis by getting another to lie down and relax, and you can use it to make people do silly things for entertainment.

That form of hypnosis works, it does, but we're not talking about that old form of communication, we're talking about unconscious communication in today's age. Not the way it was done just a few decades ago. You're learning how it's being used right now, today!

You'll be getting a lot out of this densely valuable Book and it only concerns you, communicating to yourself and others on an unconscious level, easily, and powerfully. Look at what you'll be learning today as you read this:

- You'll discover unconscious communication and how it's everywhere
- You'll learn how you can communicate to your own unconscious mind
- You'll learn about what a person's body is saying and the "signals" it sends out
- You'll discover how you can write to the unconscious mind
- You'll learn how you can talk directly to someone's unconscious mind without them knowing
- You'll discover all about the exact step-by-step by step process to get others to take action
- You'll learn about the human desires and motivations that exist in everyone on an unconscious level
- You'll discover how you can exploit power in all your social situations
- You'll learn how this can be used to blow the lid off your competition, and much more!

What you're about to learn is going to knock your socks off!

This is Not Just Any Hypnosis

If you've been dreaming about a way to create REAL success in your life, without the "positive thinking" and the motivational speeches, and those silly subliminal tapes, and other gadgets, then the information contained in this book could literally change your life!

In the pages of this book, I'll be showing you how a fascinating NEW trend of communication is currently taking the world by storm and snowballing like mad! - making it extremely easy for even the "little guy" to harness unstoppable power with others and life itself.

Just by learning to communicate unconsciously!

This is serious technology we'll be covering here. You'll never view the world the same again as you read everything in this manual. Page after page, you'll see how "Hypnosis" is nothing more than unconscious communication, and proof that the media, Don Juan's and a whole slew of MONEY ELITE individuals are using it against you.

You aren't going to have to sit back and let others play you like a puppet anymore. Just by learning everything that's written in this book, you won't have to because you've just entered the door of opportunity to discover all the ways you can create unlimited success - the kind of success that WILL BE the cause of your unstoppable communication power.

Most importantly, you'll learn how to turn the tables on this "control" and use it right back at them, leaving them powerless, as you see through the illusions they create. You'll be rolling up your sleeves saying "oh yeah? It's my turn to do this now."

Strap on your thinking cap, focus on what you're learning, then take action by getting results from life that you've always wanted. Create the kind of success and shape and mold your life the way that people write movies about and get ready, friend, for the adventure of a lifetime.

Oh, by the way, the "middle class" are the group that is not "supposed" to know this stuff. Maybe they are set up and programmed that way so they don't. If you feel like you're getting walked all over it sure proves that something's preventing you from getting more out of your social life.

And there's a reason why The MONEY ELITE, heads of political offices, celebrities, are the most powerful in the world today, isn't there? It's the communication. Persuasion and influence is making them powerful!

Let me show you what I mean...

Consider this:

Many jobs today after a while seem as though they are nothing more than task after task, don't they? Once things become routine, jobs become boring, and so does life in general. Then choices arise to be honest or not.

Some people once they reach this point in their jobs grow fat and unhappy; others get hooked on drugs and sports, just to feel some sort of excitement out of life. Some feel the need to form alliances and then the politics roll in for entertainment, to feel something, anything. You won't be living the bored life anymore but listen...

This is where the illusion begins. It's where it all starts...

You have been trapped. You are stuck between making two choices, both of which could lead to trouble. You can either be successful or not. Sometimes the trouble is an illusion and nothing more, sometimes people give in too early and "just go with it" or give up and retire unhappy. Your job pays you just enough to "get by."

Let Me Tell You Why:

Most people are cut short of ever achieving their goals. They don't believe that it is easy to become a millionaire, or to improve virtually any area of their life. They live in a "bubble" controlled environment that prevents them from seeing the whole picture, the reality of how simple it is to be successful.

Why?

Before I tell you this, just stop... And imagine what it would be like if you didn't have to put up with this fraudulent, forceful and dishonest control anymore. I'll show you how later, and you'll know what I'm talking about as you begin reading the next few paragraphs, so get ready because here it comes and it's going to really hit home....

Everyday, you are being conditioned and brainwashed through the mass media: radio, TV and internet to work hard and save. Listen to the news! They bombard you with crime news, arson, rape, burglary, bribery, corruption, anarchy, chaos, evil, mayhem and murder! By making you listen to all these crime news and other peoples' problems everyday, they condition you to believe that your life is better than those of others!

Here's what else:

They give you a false sense of comfort and complacency! 99% of the news is trash and utter filth! You listen to them and don't realize the subliminal conditioning taking place at the subconscious level of your mind! Everyday, they subliminally and indirectly condition you negatively to fail!

I'm wondering if you're getting upset with this yet...

But who are the owners of these companies, factories, banks, and insurance companies? They are the millionaire business tycoons and industrialists, the "MONEY ELITE" that own and control the mass media and feed negative, filthy, morbid crime news to your mind every day!

They are the same people that use the mass media to subtly manipulate you and condition you to fail in life! They also own and finance the politicians, congress, Political Action Committees (PACS) and even the president and his cabinet. Since they control the Senators and Congressmen/women, they also control the laws of the land you live in!

They use the mass media to shape your mind, assault it and condition it and control it! Through the content of the programs, the so called news, movies and shows they show you on TV, movie theaters, radios, they determine the content of your mind and what happens in your life!

Since the mind controls your body and life, therefore by programming your mind through the mass media, they consequently control your life! By creating imaginary problems and giving you artificial invalid solutions they get richer and richer while you get poorer and poorer, as well as miserable and stuck!

If you think you're free, please think again! You are not free! He who programs what enters into your mind, also controls and owns it, as well as your life!!! Whether you know or admit it is beside the point!

Are you interested in getting unstuck yet?

But we're not even done....!!!

Yes, money truly is power! You're virtually their slave! No matter how much money they pay you, if you work two jobs or one job (but 60 hrs a week) and do not have the time to enjoy it with your spouse and family, what good is it?

Think about it:

Some people have day jobs, night jobs and as well as weekend jobs. The worst to get hit are the middle class!

The Rich pay little tax because they know all the tax loopholes and how to hide their assets. The poor don't pay any tax. Most are on welfare!

It is you, the middle class that is killing yourself in jobs and business, only to pay most of that money in tax to support everybody else!

When both the husband and wife are out working, they cannot find the time to be with and enjoy the company of their family, friends, or even have time to make love to each other! This is one of the causes of marital problems and divorce! That is how they keep you miserable and controlled! And prevent you from achieving your destiny and being all you can be in life!

Don't you feel that you deserve the chance to be all that you can be in life? Who's to say that THEY are better than you and deserve more than you anyway? But nooooo.....

By the time you pay your rent bill, credit card bill, phone bill, insurance bill, mortgage, car loan, dentist, therapist, attorney, college loan, alimony, palimony, and child support, you have almost nothing left!

And what do the politicians do with all the tax you pay? Build new roads and bridges? Better schools for your children? Improve the infrastructures and amenities? No way!

They squander your tax dollars in supporting welfare programs which encourage joblessness, irresponsibility, teenage pregnancies, drug addiction, crimes, squalor and decadence.

These "unplanned children" grow up with no parenting, no morals or conscious, no role model, no direction, or goal in life or any job skills.

But since they must have money to support their drug addiction, they have no choice but to come after you and mug, rob and kill you.

That is what, you the middle class hardworking person gets for all your hard work and the tax you pay!

At schools, they are too busy distributing birth control and condoms to your young children, instead of teaching them how to read and write. Is it any wonder that most graduate without knowing how to even spell their own names?

And at the Sunday school and church, some of the priests are busy sexually molesting your children!

This is coming to an end, right now, today! I've had enough of this garbage, ny now, I think you feel the same way.

Would you like to see how you can take up a role where you can start controlling them? If you could have a set of tools that show you the most powerful form of communication alive, and not only protect yourself, but gain unlimited success, more power, and the ability to break free from this control, would you use it? Want to see how this has a weakness and make huge fortunes with it? Of course you would!

And I'm going to show you how you can get your share! Click here

Advancements of The Human Mind Have Made It Possible For The "Little Guy" One Man Searching For Power & Success To Compete In The World of Unconscious Communication!

But you don't need to be a president of a large corporation or a money elite wizard to quickly, easily, and safely become a power unconscious communicator today. All you need are basic proven tools that will transform you from the "stuck in the mud" days (where you truly might be right now), to what we now call:

"Apply Hypnosis"

Basic skills ...nothing "overbearing," no long studies... Stuff so simple your 7th grade child could do it.

That's what you're going to get out of this little book. The absolute cutting edge disarmingly simple but powerful insider secrets that can make you a super persuader inside of a few weeks. With hardly any work or stress.

"It's Better To Communicate Powerfully Than To Not"

It's not really that hard to make others do what you want today... The money elite and big business hoax are doing it. Why not join them?

Forget any old programming you may have learned from rich churches and broke teachers that taught you to fear influence and lead yourself. Persuasion is easily accessible. And taking control and leading yourself and others is great!

You just have to know how it's done.

Read his book, The origin of Consciousness and the Breakdown of The Bicameral Mind, Dr. Julian Jaynes. And you'll see that he too, like everyone else in the world, including yourself, started with a different way of thinking, a "react" factor, and little sense of self. In his determined search through history, he encountered scientific facts, made shocking discoveries, and was able to prove people didn't think the same as we do today.

Make no mistake about it, unconscious communication is in no way everything to success with others and yourself. There are a lot of other things you need to be "totally happy." Religion, family, friends, money and personal achievement are important, too...

But when you have persuasion power, they're even better.

Everything goes better with PERSUASION!

Unconscious Communication

First of all, what the heck is unconscious communication?

It's everything that communicates with your mind, period.

It's everything you say, everything you think, feel, imagine, touch, smell, taste, believe... it's on the television, the radio, the Internet, and the magazines, emails, letters and books you read. Yes, even this book you're reading right now is communicating to your unconscious mind.

It might surprise you to know that I am communicating to your unconscious mind. But it's simply the process of communication. You'll see in a few words exactly what I mean by this.

My "How To Hypnotize Anyone Without Getting Caught System" shows you how to do this in a more aggressive way with others. Just by making a few adjustments to the way you communicate give you a lot of power over others.

But here in this section, I'll be showing you why you need to know how communication is everything that communicates with your mind. And the only way to understand this is to discover how your brain processes information. By the way, you can learn more about Apply Hypnosis Covert Style here.

So let's look at that first. Let's see how unconscious communication is everything...

When I say, "imagine a red car", you have to go inside your head, to your unconscious mind and access a database of memories to picture that in your mind. See? I'm communicating to your unconscious.

When you hear your favorite kind of music playing, your unconscious mind's database of memories and beliefs is what places the value behind *what causes you to determine why it's your favorite kind of music. Maybe you think about a past experience that is pleasant like "the good old days." Perhaps it makes you feel a certain way. Your hearing this is communicating to your unconscious mind. It will display to your conscious mind the information in your database of memories.

Now see, if a pan is on the stove and there's fire burning underneath it, would you put your hand down on top of it, and press down on the middle of that scorching hot pan? Of course not. Why? Because your unconscious mind sends reliable signals and brings to your conscious mind's awareness the danger in doing that.

Are you starting to see how your unconscious mind runs everything?

Let me explain it to you a little more so you're sure to understand this because this is important.

You already know, by now I'm sure, that your brain has two parts and if you didn't know that... Hey, your brain has two parts.

Seriously now, one half is the conscious mind, the other half is the unconscious mind.

Here's the difference between the two:

How does the brain process information? This is important. The front part of the brain, called the cerebrum is divided into two hemispheres. The corpus callosum is the tissue connecting the two halves that allows information to be passed to and from one another.

The left hemisphere is known as the dominant hemisphere that deals with language. It processes information based on reason, analysis, and uses intellect. The right hemisphere is known as the non-dominant hemisphere and handles information in a more intuitive and holistic way. It seems to be more involved with visualization and tasks that involve comparison and gradual change.

The non-dominant hemisphere seems to also have simple language abilities. Such as chanting or simple meanings like child grammar.

The dominant hemisphere is commonly referred to as the conscious mind and the non-dominant hemisphere the subconscious. The left brain deals with understanding language and the right brain deals in more of an innocent way below our level of conscious awareness and processes simple meanings.

In other words, you run on auto-pilot. Your mind is structured by what you learn from the earliest moments of conception up to this very minute of you reading this.

A good way to look at it is like this: I'm willing to bet that in the next day or so you'll see the news on television, and what you learned earlier in this eBook will come across your mind. Your subconscious mind will provide the information you've learned here for your conscious mind to process, debate, reason and use logic to either not believe it's true, or you'll realize that everything you read here really does hit home, and everyday you see more proof to believe what you've learned is true. And you'll be absolutely certain that it is, and there's nothing that can change that belief.

Okay, so what's the real key to power and success and confidence in anything you do in life? It's your frame of mind, That's it... in the right frame of mind you can do anything... now you've probably already experienced that yourself in some are in your life... suddenly something just kicked in, and you find yourself doing something amazing... something you normally never could do and looked backed and you think gosh... was that me who did that? Has that ever happened to you?

Maybe its even happened once and a while with certain goals, and you just couldn't ever seem to repeat it, or you were only able to do it half hazardless, once and a while..

so here's a power principle... I want you to write this down on top of a piece of paper in huge letters, better still.. write it on the inside of your mind...

If I want a frame of mind, I must rehearse it. If I want a result I must rehearse it.

The basic principle here is that if you don't give you brain something to do in a situation.. Its going to pick something.... and what it picks usually isn't what it serves you best.. In fact, what its almost always going to do is just pick something that you've been doing all along.. Now doesn't that make sense? that's how people stay stuck for years.. The challenge is that most of us spend our time rehearsing things that don't make us feel too good and were not even aware we're doing it...

let me give you an example of that... I had a client come to me and I have clients coming to see me from all over the country and he said you know Nathan, I do okay when I get a goal in my mind... But as soon as I get ready to take action, I get totally scared and I have to run away from that goal... And he wasn't kidding, he literally had to run away from it... now needless to say.. This guy wasn't enjoying himself too well.. So I said to him look... I want to punish myself a little bit, I want to be you for a few minutes so I need to know how to have this problem, because I don't know how to scare myself when I want to accomplish a goal, when I have a goal in mind it's just hey, go for it and I get it... so can you tell me how to do it your way..

What do I have to do on the inside of my mind... to make myself scared... so here's what he told me, and you may have some trouble believing this but this is what he told me... he'd write a goal down on paper, get excited and say to himself "yes, I can do this" okay, so far so good nothing scary in that.

Here's what he would do next:

He'd make a great big movie in his mind of all the possible ways that his goal couldn't be accomplished, just all the things that could possibly go wrong would... and then, he'd see in his mind a picture of all his family a friends pointing and laughing at him for failing.. And then he'd see himself walking away to his room to grieve his loss with his head down.

Now dig this part:

As he got closer to his room, that picture of him got smaller and smaller until he shrunk down to nothing...

Now, can you see how this might have caused this guy a little bit of a problem? He was rehearsing alright, but it wasn't exactly the most useful thing to rehearse. I'm wondering if any of this maybe sounds a little bit familiar to you, is this maybe something you've been doing?

So look, an important step towards success is learning how you can take control what you're running through your brain, so you can build some enormously powerful states of mind, stuff that's just incredibly juicy, that makes making and accomplishing your goals fun...

See you can take yourself beyond confidence and make it in the realm of fun. See it just makes sense, that if you're going to have your brain on auto-pilot, why not build an auto-pilot that flies the plane smoothly, instead of one that crashes it into the ground. Doesn't that just make sense? So get started, by looking at the attitudes and the beliefs you need to be incredibly successful in life, that's a big part of your frame of mind.

By the way, how do you think I know this stuff..? That I read a few books and then thought to myself "hey, I think I'll write a book teaching people that they don't have to feel this way even though I don't know how it feels? No way. If what I've been saying to you sounds familiar or it touches base on what your own personal experience is, just remember that I've been there myself.

It would be accurate if you knew me some years back and you were to call me the guy who was doing everything wrong because trust me, I was. So, hold your head up high and realize that I'm living proof that anything I've described to you so far, hey - I've been there... I've modeled the success of others who accomplish their goals easily, by the way, modeling the success of others is a great way to be successful in anything you do.

Now let's get back to communicating to the unconscious mind...

Milton Erickson was one of the very founders of how to use language in the covert form to communicate directly with the unconscious mind and get past the gate keeper of your mind (conscious mind). Milton Erickson could speak in such a complex way; he could overload the conscious mind, forcing it to sort out ambiguities (you'll learn more about this later) and meanings. He discovered many ways of using language to confuse and distract the conscious mind so that he could slip information past it - directly into the unconscious mind without resistance.

And that is what "How To Hypnotize Anyone Without Getting caught" is all about! You'll be learning exactly how to make someone's dominant side of the brain have such a hard time keeping up with what you have to say. While they are trying to process that information - you'll be slipping in one command of simple meaning after the next into their unconscious mind. And how surprised will you be when you discover how easy this really is? Not to mention very powerful.

You'll also be learning how to pace and lead a person's thoughts by describing experiences to them. This form of covert hypnosis will not require you to overload the conscious mind. Instead, it will affect the person by actually experiencing what you describe to them.

Just click here when you're ready to learn this. Now, I'm not going to tell you to go to this page and like what you see, you have to decide that yourself. But if you were to go there, and notice all the opportunities that open up from learning this powerful form of communication, you've got the advantage just by thinking in this way.

People Think In This Way

People think in pictures. They think in pictures rather quickly, but realize that pictures are actually the universal language of the mind.

Think about the street signs for example. There are different colors, shapes, and pictures to express the meaning of that picture. If an illiterate person is driving, and sees a yellow street sign with a picture of a two people walking across the road, they will know that it is a cross walk and to drive with caution. Just like a circle with a diagonal slash over the picture over a lit cigarette means no smoking.

But thinking in pictures isn't all that people use to perceive the world. Think about the 5 physical senses. See, taste, touch, smell, and hear. One person might "hear" more than see pictures while another person might see more than hear. In any case, it is important that when you first talk with someone to determine which representational system is more dominant to them.

Here are all the defined representational systems:

- Visual
- Auditory
- Kinesthetic
- Neutral
- Olfactory
- Gustatory

When you're first talking with someone, to apply hypnosis more effectively, it makes sense to speak more of their "language". It's easy to spot.

If someone is prefers to be a visual thinker, they will say something like:

- I see what you mean

If someone thinks more with sound, they will say something like:

- That doesn't sound right

If someone is a more kinesthetic thinker, they will say something like:

- We should keep in touch

If someone thinks more olfactory and gustatory, they will say something like:

- Such a sweet person

Having an awareness of what their preferred representation of thinking is can help you decide what to structure your verbal language around. A good rule of thumb to have is:

Always try to determine the person's primary representational system first when you're getting ready to apply hypnosis on them.

"Body Language to Send Positive Unconscious Messages!"

Indeed, the world is changing, and today you have an opportunity to share in that world!...

Excuse me. It's 9:03 a.m. and I've just been interrupted by the beautiful sound of a woman's voice. I'm sitting at my desk in Sacramento, California writing these very words you see. There's only a few easy steps on level ground between my body and hers. Can you believe it? I can identify all the cues so you know exactly who likes you, with what intensity and how to utilize that secret information.

It's so nice of her to like me. She lives in Sacramento California too, but she doesn't know how to read all of the "cues" that people send unconsciously. Nothing fancy, just simple signals which are processed only in her unconscious mind. Then her "instinct" is going to tell her that, "I don't know why, but I really like you! I just have a feeling this is 'right'!" and, Voila! I've got the edge over the competition! It could be that way for you.

"The Secrets of Unconscious Gestures"

See what I'm talking about? She has no idea I'm doing this, and my body sends unconscious 'cues' to transmit the "like me" signals. Everyone else in the world is sending random signals. Some are processed as liking, some as not liking. Some as deception. YOU are going to send all positive signals. Nothing to it!

I set the motions and composure for her unconscious mind to pick up, by the way. Now it's become easier and more powerful to do this around others like this nearly every day.

Anyway... to continue! It's become so easy! Anyone who will dare to use today's simple technology can effectively set up an automatic stimulating aura!

But first, excuse me again. I've just been delightfully interrupted by the sound of her voice again! I just can't keep my composure when I hear that beautiful abbreviated sound. Next comes the whirr-r-r of a nice warm signal I send her. Hmm. She's blushing and smiling, California girl wants to do something more than just stand there...

You Can Be Dumb Or Dumber And Still Succeed In Unconscious Communication!

Once even the word "unconscious" impressed me. I was uneducated about it, too. Then I stumbled my way in. Easily... over the course of a few months I became powerful and persuasive.

First I read some books from the early 80's to show me how, and 5 minutes later I could send and receive signals. Timely research advised me what I needed and showed me how to turn my body into a talker. An experiment with a friend showed me in 2 minutes how to get them to feel really connected to me.

I started going out and practicing. It was then I first discovered the rocket power of unconscious communication! A few weeks later I quit my old way of expression. That was several years ago. I got really good in the first few months. Never failed me. I think you can do the same thing. You see...

Please excuse me again. ... I've just been interrupted by my California beauty. I have myself sitting in a way so that she can't help but want to open up to me and have me closer to her. Yahoo, a thrill to come! The motion I made completed the motivation, and here it is! Total Power. Everyday vanilla uncomplicated 21st Century body language technology.

It's 9:47 a.m. As I was saying.....

Oh, I'm sorry. Please excuse me one final time. After I take this last request from her I promise I'm going to get my laptop and go down to the first floor and write on the dining room table. Away from the exciting diversions of her voice, the experiments, and the thrills.

But first... This is a look I've made with my eyes that makes her want to get closer to me. I did this because one of my students just emailed me who bought my course a few months ago. Doing exactly what the course explained, Jeremy Dockings "picked up" and is dating a gorgeous woman named Tina the first attempt using this "gaze" - he sent me a picture (knockout). Today he wants me to take his credit card to show him my covert hypnosis strategies. Not surprisingly, I might add.

Whew! That's better. Now that I'm downstairs I'll be able to finish this letter without thinking about all the attention I'm getting.

Oh, by the way. Fortunately, it's not important to have a complete understanding of how the brain works. The important thing is self-control. Presumably you're sending signals on a conscious level... How easy is that? Watch what their body does, and make a gesture or subtle movement for your benefit and watch them again, but that's the extent of it. You can do the same thing. That's what this special report is all about!

All you have to do is get going! Body language is so happening that any moderately executed technique can give you more power and influence.

Review: I just made a woman want me in less than a few minutes. I didn't do a single bit of "talking" to get this result! In fact, each signal sent was a delightful interruption of the work I was trying to get done. The movement, the posture, and "look" did it all for me. I chatted with one customer. He was thrilled to learn more, and proud to be dating a beautiful woman.

Everyone of these "cues" was unconscious-related. My effort, once deciding what her body says, are totally squat. When you don't have to put very much thought in doing this, it sure makes it easy!

A Power Too Special and Stimulating To Resist...

I'm a lot more powerful now than I was a few month's ago. My skill gets better and better each and every time I try it and I don't send "don't like me" signals like so many other millions of "persuaders" out there!

If you can imagine having all the juicy, powerful, magical movements, if you knew what they were and how you can use them, to your everyday advantage without having to say a word, would you use them? If you're curious to know what it's like to have this outstanding leverage and power, you can find out more by going here.

A New Era of Opportunity, Perfect for the 21st Century!

Non-verbal techniques... Verbal power... Anchors... a proven success formula at your side...

Scientific communication and hypnosis makes it possible for anyone to persuade anyone easily, INCLUDING YOURSELF, anywhere, anytime! Announcing!...

This Incredible Process of "Apply Hypnosis"

The Chance To Live Your Dreams!

Some of what I'm going to say is going to sound complicated. Some of it incredible... Hang with me on the complicated stuff, because we need it to see how persuasion can instantly put you on top of the summit looking down over your competitors.

The incredible part? Well, keep reading. You'll see all the proof you'll ever need to know for certain that it can work for you, too!

Unconscious Communication

The subject you've been embarking on is the application of unconscious communication through hypnotic channels - exploiting all the advantages which today's simple language and thought construction lays at your feet.

This is "communication" as it's done today, in the 21st Century... not in the cave man era.

But first, a few helpful hints, if I may... I can't say it enough. Reading is fine - it's essential. The error some people make, however, being so well trained in reading and analysis... is that they never DO anything with what they learn. What I'm saying is, that there's only one way to cross the gulf between where you are now and where you want to be, and it's not by being amazed by the stories of how good unconscious communication can be, and especially how sizzling the power is.

It's about being motivated, sure, but, beyond that, it's about doing the applications. Notice their state of mind. Capture their imagination. Send an unconscious message. Anchor that to and object, sound, touch, taste or smell. This communication is amazing! Do your reading and analysis, then move into action. Power will sprout and grow around you all the days of your life.

This is the only form of communication that gives you everything without taking anything away!

True freedom, independence, wealth, time to celebrate life with your loved ones!

Let's get straight on one important thing right now. What we're talking about is not rocket science!

Anyone can learn to do the applications, even if you don't know how it even works! Even if you've never learned anything about hypnosis before! If millions of other people can do this to influence others, influence themselves, then surely you can too!

Today's "hypnosis" is simple to use! Guaranteed, anyone can do it! Ages 8 to 98!!!

At a $7,000 communication skills building seminar in Sacramento, CA I was asked to share... candidly in a closed-door meeting with other successful persuading individuals, exactly what my own personal take on "Hypnosis" in the today's Age is. Eager eyes took in every word, tingling with excitement!

What follows is a liberal transliteration of a little of what I said...

Buckle your seatbelt, my friend. Though it will always remain a dream for the majority of people, this success is quite real!

And it's calling your name!...

"What Is It That Makes 'Hypnosis' in Today's Age The World's Best Communication?"

There's literally hundreds of sound reasons why "Hypnosis" in Today's Age is the world's best communication for anyone! Sure, this communication shares many things in common with any successful persuader. And, in truth, the principles of unconscious communication are indeed the same necessary principles for running any successful enterprise, gaining compliance with others, to lead not only others but leading yourself as well. It's necessary for survival!

What's different, is the group of unique and specific benefits that make this unconscious communication "Hypnosis" in Today's Age" easier to learn, experiment, and apply than any other persuasion method in the world, while simultaneously delivering more passion, more fun, and more freedom in your personal and professional life.

I'll try to live up to my responsibility to tell it like it is!

P.S. All the things unconscious communication shares with other persuaders? They're more skilled and more effectively communicating to their own unconscious mind, also.

Instant Hypnotic Creation

What is it that makes "Hypnosis" in today's Age so rewarding? It is the instant persuasion? ...Because you can create a unconscious message in 2-5 minutes, and have everything you want go into a persons unconscious mind instantly?

No Long Hours of Studying Required

...Or the ability to launch a positive unconscious message with virtually NO experience, less than a few attempts? Or, that you can do it with your friends, with no worries, no embarrassment, no headaches?

Or because you can use it anywhere, your telephone in your living room, in person in bars or restaurants or at work, or in your writing?

You've Turned The Tables!

Could it be because you've finally turned the tables on the insecurity of following?
...Or because hypnosis gives you persuasion and power over others, totally elevating your lifestyle, giving you both the success and the ability to do the things with others you like to do?... like capture the lover of your dreams, help loved ones... win friends, create success, more sales...

Unlimited Potential!

Or is Hypnosis and unconscious communication so rewarding because (and this is the important point) because your potential in using it is unlimited? Believe me, you'll find it very difficult not to apply hypnosis once you know how... And the experience of many start-up hypnotic persuaders indicates it's easy to create persuasion! You decide how much you want to create.

Or is it because it's so easy to apply hypnosis that you make more money while you sell online, offline, negotiate deals, and even date the "hotties" while your at a party?! Turn your body, your voice, and your communication into your own powerful positive unconscious communicating success grabbing machine?

Yep, I think so.

Many people search for any one of these incredible benefits. Any one of these could be the deciding benefit in your life... But taken together!... When you add them all together, there's an irresistible synergy!!!

THE WHOLE IS GREATER THAN THE SUM OF THE PARTS!

Lucky You! The Apply Hypnosis in Today's Age Is Easy!

The body, the gestures, the voice, and certain words - these are the essential elements of your savvy, sensational, and wildly powerful Unconscious Persuasion Creation skills in Today's Age. That's assuming you need to send out a physical signal, voice message, or unconscious cue...

Then, when you take hypnosis to the next level, talk about low level involvement!! When you "automate" your skills, you don't even have to think about, analyze, or stress on what to say or do... They're all ready to begin working for you automatically from your automated unconscious thought messaging system. All this at no hard work to you!

If you don't have any experience in hypnosis and unconscious communication, don't worry! You don't need anything other than a formula and a set of phrases to get started.

You can start with one technique a day. No body needs to know you're practicing on you or them using "hypnosis." Then, from your experience you can add on another technique. That's all you ever need to supercharge your persuasion starting today!

It's true, many people have applied hypnosis successfully by practicing - and many people even TODAY are using unconscious communication only, when they interact with others. Most Don Juan's, all the media and big businessman and the money elite. But why?

It's Power In Your Hands

You're probably skilled at persuading in one form or another. But if you're not, get going as soon as you can. Whatever your motivation is. The motivation helps... With nothing but a little practice, I've recently snagged lovers from Rio de Janeiro, UK, Michigan, Columbia, and Puerto Rico, not to mention California to Florida, to Maine, in the U.S. It's waiting for you. It's exploding for you!

It's power in your hands... all from my personal and business life out of my desire to learn! (My motivation to practice has brought me success! I started writing love letters, then learned to do it in person, then on myself!)

Even as we talk, I'm exchanging e-mails with sexy women in UK, California, and Florida.

It's the nature of unconscious communication. Anybody who will try it can do it successfully.

It's not too late to jump into the communication game. The pioneers have a lot of arrows in their backs, but you and I don't have to. We can jump on the technology and create persuasion skills in days, not months or years.

It's the best time ever to jump into unconscious communication!

But hurry, before your friends or co-workers beat you to it and use it on YOU...

Why do I like hypnosis? One scenario. This is how I started... Assuming you know how to talk, to start your skills building you only: 1) change your voice to "Speak To" the unconscious, 2) align your body to send all the right signals, 3) send a few craftily worded unconscious messages out of your mouth, and 4) let them take action now!! It's that easy to start building your skills!

Or write your own love letters using hypnotic writing. Only seconds after your prospect completed reading your letter - they'll be enthralled and seduced by what you wrote, that's loaded with hypnotic commands! ... they'll do whatever you tell their unconscious mind to do...

You may start directly with a friend. You can practice on yourself like I do, or go to a coffee shop, your boss, the Internet chat rooms, email, or a long list of other social situations to get all the practice you want. What other situations can you think of that will cause you to become a Master?!!

Then do a little more fun stuff. To get started check out how it works on a hot date or during your sales negotiations ...I think you'll like what you find.

Apply it to your sales job, do a little unconscious sales pitch, and more sales begin!
It doesn't have to be complicated to be effective.

I'll come back to how you can use it in a minute... But for now, I want to move on, because I don't want you to think that hypnosis as a whole is about using it on others. It's not - there's much more. Applying hypnosis is more than that... It's a practice.

As a master persuader, you're not really required to be a hypnotic fanatic. Quite the opposite, you never want to get buried in the subject, but to use it... As you use a multitude of results-producing tools.

Succeed In 1 Month

The unconscious communication is still so easy that the average guy can start using it one month and become unstoppable the next month! I don't know of too many other opportunities like that, do you?

One good skill to the next and you're running!

Big Words = BIG Results

It's easy to get a good word to work! But not only that, it's easy to get high powered and proven words, with a proven step-by-step formula plan for you to instantly motivate others in a BIG way, real quick! If you're interested, I'll personally give you a list of powerful psychological words of your own that can be the genuine beginning of your own POWERHOUSE persuasion and influence. Just keep reading.

Some people think it's hard to influence others. The truth is quite different. The worst technique we ever tried was a direct command. We had more people arguing and trying to fight and think bad of what was said than we ever had for a message that had indirect "special" phrases followed by commands that proved to be more effective - TEN times that! So our probability of getting a command into the unconscious mind went up! Imagine that! Add a few simple words BEFORE or after your command and the conscious mind cannot stop it!

Not only that, the positive responses were significantly higher with the indirect commands. But the thing that bothered me most was the responses they gave.

A man told to "please turn on the light because I can't reach it from where I'm at" simply says, "okay" Easy.

For "Turn on the light" the responses were like this:

Reply: Why do I have to turn on the light?

ME: Well you're closer.

Reply: Can't you see I'm busy?

Me: Well I am too, please will you do it?

Reply: Man you're lazy, can't even turn on a stupid light. You're the one who wanted it on, you do it.

Of course, I really wanted to use hypnosis to get him to comply, which works only by saying a few words BEFORE or after a command, and there is no argument or resentment!

These types of responses are "filtered out" with a more careful set of phrases.

That's good! You don't need this grief to get a person to argue with your request because you create the scene for them to comply....

Besides, people will view you as an authority figure if you know how to structure your language. They will be willing to comply with what you say quite readily - and that's where you have the ability to have control! That's where the power lies.

Direct commands into Unconscious commands. Less hassle. No struggle.

Handle with care direct commands.

P.S. As you know, any honest person who purchases Apply Hypnosis Training receives 38 sneak phrases. That's a good start. However, if you inquire, there's more... Lots more. You can get high quality, good sounding, high power communication easily already set up for you.... click here

Your Odds Of Success Are 100%

When you possess the authentic secrets of Apply Hypnosis, persuasion and influence becomes like a big game you can't help but win! You change your odds of success to 100%, winning an amazing advantage. (More about this advantage later.)

It Doesn't Take Much To Be Successful In Persuasion!

So, what does it take to succeed in your professional and personal influence? Well, in most cases, the people who are getting tons of leverage over others and in their lives have (only) 3 things going for them:

They understand how people think.

They have a body that sends positive messages -- and that MAKES people like you without knowing why.

They have the right hypnosis materials to communicate and motivate individuals they communicate with. (non-verbal skills, language patterns, tonality skills, etc.)

You can have it all, everything... more sales, more lovers, obedient children, happy students, successful negotiations, confidence, fame, respect, a secret power over others with no worries of getting caught using it - everything that Apply Hypnosis talks about, and more!!!

Talk about "secrets of success!" Success is this simple! This is a profound truth discovered and used by few. You will learn how to activate all three of these essential facets to success... without stress or strain. It guarantees your success!

You can have it all!

There's No Getting Caught Using This Stuff & Age and Ethnic Background Doesn't Matter

Whether you're using it obviously or not, don't make any difference! If people use it on me it works! It just works. And I've tried to be so blatantly obvious to TRY AND GET CAUGHT, and people just don't catch on to what you're doing!

How you look, where you're from and how old you are don't matter. Kurdistan or American, Venezolano, or Tokyo, you can get as the results you want! At 22, 42, 62, or 92.

Black, white, red, yellow, or brown...
Pretty, ugly, or average...
Mentally sharp or psychologically challenged...
Male or female...
Gay, straight, or bi...
Tall or short. Dumpy or a rail...
Running fanatic, bound to the chair...
Early bird, or night owl...

Nobody knows... Nobody judges.

No Education Required

There's no training, no education, no experience required for Applying Hypnosis. Anyone with a 7th grade education can understand all you need to do this communication!

No Inductions or Pocket Watches

You have no leather sofa, the #1 least effective and unreliable persuasion method.

Selling a car: "Sir, please lay down, close your eyes and relax while I hypnotize you"
- There's none of that.

You can run your entire unconscious communication through the mind without getting a person to lay down and relax...

Everything you say sounds like natural language and goes to the unconscious, which is what brings out the instant action.

Start Immediately

You can get started with your family... My 22 year old cousin practiced, attempted, tested, and applied hypnosis on his father. Others practice with their friends, and they both learn from one another. Today people are learning the essential communication skills easily.

Start Your Communication With A Set of Phrases

Most other "persuaders" belly up with asking questions, the wrong ones, or using the same ol'e pitch everyone else uses. They've got their sales and their fortunes on the line. No wonder they hope and pray like hell they'll create the winning set of magical phrases, "experimenting", and trial and error anxiety.

Compare that with your list of proven trance phrases. Priceless! Or, even if you're not selling, check out the simple way of communicating with the unconscious mind of others!

Say a simple phrase then your command. Presto! You've taken experimenting and thrown it out the window! Because these phrases are proven, you won't have to experiment. Have a sales pitch created in minutes. You don't even need to know why it works. It just does!

A Proven Persuasion System

Most other negotiators and salesman, "persuaders" (faced with a very real 95% failure rate) feel insecure, scared, and frustrated. But because you're using a proven system that works, you feel secure and confident. This Is Not Traditional Hypnosis.

Occasionally someone innocently confuses this form of communication with traditional hypnosis. But, rest assured, Apply Hypnosis has nothing to do with any of the inductions or the latest stage hypnosis marvels. You won't be asking for permission or saying "You feel very relaxed". You won't be using "subliminal tapes" or having others do silly tricks.

"Is It Ethical To Use This Communication... This Easily?!"

Listen, I love to wake up, talk to the beautiful woman laying next to me, and have her feel great around me and excited to comply with what I say. It somehow makes the whole day better. Fine folks in different parts of the city, other countries, or people up late or early, loving to talk to me, and lined up to do it too. I've made great amount of friends using hypnosis to make others feel great.

I will address these questions that I get asked often:

- Is it ethical the changes someone's mind?
- Is it ethical to influence someone without their awareness?
- Is it ethical to influence someone with their awareness?

Not only do I believe that it is ethical but I believe it is vital for survival in the 21st century. I also know that hypnosis in the covert form can be used for the ill and that will never change.

Generally speaking, if you use hypnosis and you are doing so because of, and for, the best interest for another person, you are more than likely using ethically. If you are using it to promote behavior to do something that is not in their best interest that is not ethical.

But this address wouldn't be complete without asking

"Who am I or you to say what is someone's best interest?"

That I understand. As you think about that question, please do remember that every day people are making hundreds of decisions for you on your behalf. Some ethical and others unethical.

- Congress and the president tax your money and spend it. Some are for ethical purposes and others are not. You don't get a say in the matter however.
- Parent's make hundreds of decisions for and on the behalf of their children. They are told what they can and cannot do - often without ever explaining why.
- Teachers in school are constantly making decisions for and on the behalf of students.

The fact is, one of the most common behaviors we all participate in every day is making decisions for and on the behalf of other people. And if you can honestly not think of a time and say that you have never looked out for the best interest in another person, then you're even more subject to others making decisions on your behalf.

So the real question to ask is:

"Should I use covert persuasion or let it be used on me?"

And the answer to that question cannot be answered by anyone but yourself. Everyone has their own set of morals, good or bad. Some people are leaders and others prefer to follow.

Let's suppose someone thinks their ugly, and believe it. Would you use covert hypnosis to get them to create a better image of themselves?

I know I would, and have.

Let's suppose that a person thinks ill of you, would you use it so they change their perspective and you appear to be likeable?

I know I would, and do that often.

Let's suppose that the opposite sex is with someone, and you think you would be a better person to be with, would you use it to get them to dump them and be with you?

I know I would and have. In fact, I used it on a women before to help get her out of a controlling relationship and realize that there was better guys out there. She still loves me for that. And we aren't together anymore.

Covert persuasion really isn't telling a person what to do, it's bringing into a realization of what's already there that they might not see, feel, or experience, good or bad unless you were to point it out to them.

What it all boils down to is pleasure and pain, and what you do to others, will get done to you.

I know what you might be thinking "Oh man, he's bringing out the golden rule" - but it's true.

From experience and experimentation, I have used covert hypnosis to make people feel pleasure, and make people feel pain, and it comes back both ways. Ironically, which ever choice between the two you make to use it on a person, comes back more.

If you make others take an action that is pleasurable, than you better believe you have pleasure coming your way - more than what you did for that person.

likewise with pain.

I've adopted the attitude of sharing and giving when I use covert hypnosis - I remove myself from the picture completely and stop... and think about the other person's experience and the benefit they will get from me using it on them and it has never came back to haunt me. There's always the questions "How can I make this person feel good about x?" or "What can I show them that will make them feel x?" and "What can I do to help?" in the back of my mind when I'm talking with someone.

But the moment you use it for selfish reasons, is when things start to get ugly.

Give, share, help, and lead to pleasure and you'll be remembered for it. Everyday in social situations you're going to be perceived by others as a likable person, or not so likeable.

If you could choose which one it would be and have the power to control that, would you?

So, what makes it okay for me - and it'll do the same for you... is that I'm exchanging genuine value for every persuasion technique used. Actually trading fun for happiness. That's a good deal, isn't it?

Have More Fun With Others Than Most People Ever Imagine

Then, after I've showered, eaten, and kissed my love bye as she leaves, I tear into my office to reply to email messages from my customers waiting for me from my Internet site. It just purrs along without my active involvement... I mean it's fun doing business and all... BUT I'm thousands of times happier, having fun with great people like you!

But the action has only just started, because I still get to go out and play with women, negotiate with businessman... for an afternoon delight, I play around to see where I can get the great deals from salesman who don't know this stuff...

Deep discounts, free meals, exciting dates...

This can be you!

You Don't Need Any Licenses

You don't need any licenses to use this form of hypnosis. You won't have those costly compliance problems that practitioners, wannabees, and amateur hypnotists have!

You can Take Over The Petty Office Politics

Petty office politics is fun... Hey, it's there, you mine as well be the one with all the leverage. You can have the advantage!

You'll like Apply Hypnosis at your job because popularity and power floods in ALL departments, the secretaries, the foreman, and your boss! You just decide what to be to others. People don't gain promotions by overworking now days, mine as well use this to your advantage. Using Apply Hypnosis... What could be easier?

Persuasion communication offers a proven, reliable, dependable system to create persuasion quickly! All you're doing now is souping it up to do what the multi-millionaire kings, politicians, lawyers and the media of the 1960's, 70's, 80's, and 90's could do. Today, with the language skills, the development, and applications of hypnosis that's NOW readily available to you in practical form, you can learn to do in a few months what it took them years to do.

Plus, if you test an idea and get a poor response, all you have to do is change a word or two. Simple. Maybe just change the gesture. How would you like to re-write a letter from scratch because what you're writing isn't getting the response the way you want it to? See how easy knowing these applications, language constructions and formula's are compared to shooting random signals?

Multiply Your Persuasion Power

You can start by using simple formulas. For instance, if you say something to get someone to feel a certain way, and you make the person feel that more after you're finished saying it.

Look at scenario 2: Use body language, and it gets even better.

- You send a positive signal using your body first.
- Ask a few simple questions to get them to reveal you crucial information that you can use later when you create your persuasion language.
- Run your powerful language pattern, and you've got 3 times as much power as you do just by using this.

But, want to see your persuasion take off at hyper-speed?

Let's assume you use all the Apply Hypnosis skills, and then get all your efforts to work again in further days ahead without saying a word! Look at what you can do!

Read their body language.

Ask specific questions to get them to reveal to you powerful words you can use later on with your language pattern, created from the fly because you'll be this good.

Say your powerful language pattern to get them to comply.

And the use anchors to get them to feel, or act or do anything you want them to, whether you're around or not... Or anytime you want them to feel something you've created once, will be as easy as making a gesture, touching something to remind them how they should feel.

You've made persuasion a one time effort!

It's incredible how you can make this happen! I started with a language pattern on a woman and multiplied the power of it by non-verbal communication and then into bigger and more sneaky ways to persuade and influence others using anchors. It's the perfect way to get started!

Most successful people discover that discretion prohibits them from talking or "bragging" about how powerful their skills are, and how they do it. But I won't been shy about revealing my secrets... I've gotten really good with this stuff. This is how I do it: chain linking one technique with another, from one skill into another - all in a one shot effort - following a simple fool proof persuasion formula.

Before all the shooting was over, I've cooked up an incredible method that ensures a positive response and failsafe result!!!

You can do it, too! Believe it!

P.S. What if you shoot for the stars and write your goal at getting everything you want from others and life than you'll ever be able to get and don't make it? Wouldn't it be an outrageous event to have to adjust to only getting most of that? Or ¼ that? Or 1/10 that? Could you live getting more from others and life than most people? Crazy, ¿no?

"What Power?"

You have no power over others.

Hundreds of thousands of honest Americans think they do but they don't. Especially those in the middle class. not even close... Imagine that!

If you feel more comfortable clinging to that little shred of security called a leader, start becoming one of them -- there's no shame in that. In fact, I would never recommend anything else. And then, in a few weeks or months when you replace your 'outside authority' and external guidance, quit "following" altogether. And have at the very least, power over yourself.

There's A Lot More To Life Than "Same Ole' Everyday"

Using Apply Hypnosis - especially when you use it in every social situation - you have no restrictions of fun and adventurism! You can use this anywhere - in any location in the world, and do this communication.

Equally as important, you're not chained to the same ole' day after boring day. When you want to see what this will do - try it out, see what response you get from others, or play around with it... just do it!

You are completely free to use this! Most people don't think about this... but there's a HUGE difference between being "happily living" and happily-confined!

Even when you "do the same thing day after day" you are totally free, and happy. ...Any time. You know what motivates others, so you can just start using this to get more from life (using Apply Hypnosis formula's will help you). You can seduce people you wouldn't dare before, and it works... ...or create a message that'll get you a standing ovation at your church!

With REAL Happiness, You Live An Entirely New Life!

Add a career of your choice to your life and you are Truly Happy! Get your important messages across to your own mind that you deserve more from life, and start getting it! Music or the Arts, Big Business, Politics, or even become a fishing guide. Use hypnosis on yourself to create success. Make a few simple changes.

These are all easily accessible mind tools, ready to comply with your every command. All the rest is gravy!

Because you have so much self proclaimed power, all kinds of social opportunities open up, even free offers. That's exactly what I'm doing... I just received a letter from a corporation I used to work for...

"I'm having the time of my life selling our products to people, it's now fun, and easy, playing unconsciously, We love it, thanks for your info - please accept our free complimentary system to say thanks again...."

That's what "Apply Hypnosis" in Today's Age can do for you!

Experience the true quality of socializing that only hypnosis can give you! Independence. Choices. Lovers, successful negotiations, influence, extravagances, power, money, security... and above all, happiness.

You project a clean, professional, respected, prestigious aura. Never "fail" with others another day in your life!

EXTRA BONUS: You have no wasted trial and error time. As an Apply Hypnosis practitioner, you enjoy the "instant persuasion creation," which, over the course of a year, gives you UNSTOPABLE power and quality over others and in your life! Can you believe it?!!

Your Status Doesn't Matter

Your own personal status doesn't matter! Guaranteed! No matter what your appearance looks like, or what you think of yourself now, you can quickly and easily get others to accept your unconscious messages, even face to face - and boost your influence by as much as 80%-120%! More than someone you consider to be more "physically attractive" than you. Easy to beat them.

NO Getting Caught

This is one of the biggest errors people think of Apply Hypnosis.

There are no ways to get caught in your Apply Hypnosis endeavors! Nobody knows you're doing this! (If you've ever suffered through a "Classic Argument" by saying the wrong thing, you know how important this is!)

You never have to wait and hope and beg for compliance! All techniques you're using are prepared with verified "transparent" tactics before you ever say anything wrong and direct. You don't create resentment in others.

Apply Hypnosis Techniques Are Easy

To Use And Easy To Learn

There's no product alive that's easier or faster to use for unconscious communication in a scientific sequence. We make it easy for you to learn these effective strategies.

And, get this, your new found powers will work on you! In fact, if you do it right, the way we show you, you can tell yourself what you want, and easily get it! No Sweat!

Outrageous Emotions Get You Successful!

I'm going to share with you a real BIG secret right now. You know how I said you'd have to try not to make more success than the outrageous goal you create?... BIG TIME goals routinely make outrageous emotions to get you success! You can think more than what you want, and get what you originally wanted to begin with!

That's An Outrageous Emotion! ... the success is only a pittance compared to its large "BIG THOUGHT" value. Compared with conventional standards, your success will soar through the roof!

Now I know, if you're past puberty, you recognize these results as nothing short of phenomenal! That's the beauty of creating specialized BIG THOUGHT goals. Thoughts like these are the sure road to success.

Even At The High Standards Big Thoughts Command, They Work!

Your Brain Wants Success!
It's The Starving Signals
We Keep Talking About,

AND IT'LL DO ANYTHING FOR YOU FOR YOU TO GET THIS SUCCESS!

Simply Success!

Some people think creating success is difficult. Actually, it's a LOT easier. Creating success is just as easy as failing - your brain would rather have success, you have the ability to create success in you EASILY. This means that successful creation is actually easier to do than fail!

People who want success, hey, it's easy to find! There are all kinds of relevant ways that give you instant access to the goals you want to reach. Target your goal correctly, and you don't suffer for wasted energy.

Command-On-Demand

Create Obscene Leverage On Someone Else's Mind!

Commanding on demand is the perfect solution to always having plenty of power on hand! You don't even have to waste your time on negotiating!

Most people sink their precious efforts into begging... non-producing. If you were very weak it could cost you lowered self-esteem to beg for compliance.
(Incompetence)

But you can waltz up any time... getting the results you want anytime - with the use of embedded commands, because they'll ALREADY GO FOR and ACT ON WHAT YOU SAY!!! Simply run them a few verbal sentences, so 5 minutes and 30 seconds later you're getting what you want! Then you get MORE!

C'mon now, what other technique do you know where you can do all your convincing with a few sentences, not hours or minutes?

Apply Hypnosis lets you run your entire persuasion efforts with nothing more than a few choice words!

That's Commanding-on-demand.

Want one better?... It's even cooler when you're delivering your messages combined with gestures, because the process amplifies and multiplies! 100% pure influence!

The Mark Spitz Advantage

You'll be taking for yourself what I call the Mark Spitz advantage... What I mean is, assume there's a boatload of 1,000 people cruising the Mediterranean ... Assume that some government decides they want to sink that ship. Everybody who can swim 10 miles survives. Everybody who can't, dies.

Well, communication power may not be so extreme, but it sometimes is a matter of survival under adverse circumstances. Wouldn't you agree that the odds of failure for these once sunny passengers would be about 99.5%? That is, probably less than 5 of the 1,000 people would make it to shore. Yep, 995 die.

Now further assume that Mark Spitz, winner of 9 Olympic gold medals in swimming, were on that boat. Sure, the odds of failure are 99.5%. But, for Mark Spitz... the "odds" simply don't matter. They're not part of the game he plays... Assuming that same benign government doesn't strafe back F-18's to spike him in the water, Mark Spitz's odds for success are 100%.

That's the advantage having the complete Apply Hypnosis in Today's Age System will give to you. No matter what the "masses" are doing, and undoubtedly the majority of them are failing, your odds for success stay pegged at 100%!

What separates you from the good life you desire is nothing more than knowledge - secrets the millionaires don't talk about. Secrets that you get in The Apply Hypnosis in Today's Age eBooks.

Announcing! ...It's all yours!
